

Performance highlight

The aims of the Long-Term Environmental Vision are to contribute to the prevention of global warming by keeping greenhouse gases down to a level that can be absorbed by the earth as well as to use biological resources, water resources, and containers and packaging in sustainable ways. Most of the objective indicators of sustainability are still a work in progress, but as of the end of 2018, we have achieved or established the following sustainability-related targets.

